DARLINGTON MAN CONVICTED OF MANSLAUGHTER IN 4TH DEGREE

BLASER SENTENCED TO STATE'S PRISON FOR ONE YEAR

CHEESEMAKER THANKS JURY FOR VERDICT AND IS HAPPY TOOK SIX HOURS

Jury at no time considered the Charge of First Degree Murder.

(By Staff Correspondent.)
Darlington.—Herman Blaser shook hands with the jury Friday night. He was pleased. There was a softening of the lines in his face; tears stood in his eyes. The jury had just given a verdict against him of manslaughter in the fourth degree.

Judge Sherman E. Smalley sentenced him to one year in the penitentiary at Waupun. One day of that will be in solitary confinement. But that will not be much worse than the six months he had spent previously, almost entirely alone, in the Lafayette county jail.

The jury was out six hours. There never was a moment when Blaser was in danger of being convicted of murder in the first degree, with which he was charged before the court. The first ballot was for acquittal of manslaughter. The vote was four for acquittal, four for manslaughter in the fourth degree, and four for manslaughter in the second degree. Eventually they got together on manslaughter in the fourth degree.

Blaser Unmoved by Verdict
There were few people in the courtroom when the verdict was brought in. Everybody had gone to sleep. Blaser listened to the verdict with unmoved features. When he realized what it was and that he had escaped from imprisonment for life, he thanked each jurymen in person and said he was satisfied. The pallor of his face coming from serving six months in jail gave evidence of a little color and he heard his sentence with features unchanged.

Herman Blaser will be taken to the state prison at Waupun Monday by Sheriff Webster to begin serving the sentence of one year in prison. The tragedy of confinement will be long months in jail waiting for his fate to be decided, because he could not raise bail. The long days of winter and the beautiful days of spring will be spent in jail bars. Only twice had he been outside until the opening of the trial, once to trim the trees, and another time to go to the Oak Grove school house to see the jury. The situation on the night when the tragedy occurred. He was amazed at the transformation wrought by the hand of nature, transformed from the school house to a verdant green, the grass to correspond in the beauty of the country. It struck him as odd that all this had been done while he was penned up, waiting to be tried.

Case of High Interest

To Darlington residents: the case of the State of Wisconsin versus Herman Blaser, which has occupied their interest since the startling verdict months ago is closed. Herman Blaser has been sentenced for a crime he committed, the highest crime known to law.

EDGERTON MAN DEAD IN BED

Edgerton.—Albert Slagge, an aged farmer living near Albion, was found dead in his bed, presumably from heart failure. The funeral will be held from the family residence Sunday at 2 p. m. and burial in Evergreen cemetery on Albion Prairie.

CITY TO SEEK LOWER PRICE ON PARK

Riverside park would be an asset to Janesville but the price asked—$42,000 to $44,000—is too high. That was the sentiment expressed at a joint meeting of the city planning commission and the council park committee Friday night. It was agreed informally not to bring the matter before the council Monday night.

Efforts are to be made to negotiate for a lower figure on the property.

Here's Sport.

Wouldn't it be sport to get up at daylight Sunday morning and go for a ride on a motorcycle or a motor boat and know that you're going to find good fishing? Then why not buy a boat or motorcycle? You can buy either at a very reasonable price. There are a lot of people who would gladly sell you one. But to find those people is not so easy unless you do it through a Gazette Wand Ad.

Denby Calls Sims Home

(By Associated Press.)
Washington.—Rear Admiral Sims' leave of absence in England was revoked Saturday by Secretary Denby and he was ordered to report at once to the Secretary of the Navy. Mr. Denby's action was taken without waiting for a reply from the officer to the secretary's cable asking whether he had been correctly quoted as expressing his opinion in a speech delivered in London. Admiral Sims announced he would sail for home from England on June 15. He was granted leave of absence to go abroad to receive a degree from an English university.

The naval secretary's cablegram sent today to the officer was: "Remainder your leave revoked. You will return to the United States immediately and report in person to the Secretary of the Navy. Acknowledge." Mr. Denby's order was expected to expedite Sims' return from England. The liner Olympic, on which the officer already had planned to return, was the first available ship for the trip when he booked passage.

Thousands Attend Funeral Services of Col. Galbraith

(By Associated Press.)
Chicago.—Thousands of persons Saturday attended the funeral services in Music hall for Col. F. W. Galbraith, who was killed in an automobile accident in Indianapolis.

For hours before the services, thousands filed past the bier of the dead soldier in the rotunda of the hall. There were men and women from every walk of life, friends of dead soldiers who served under him and mothers and fathers and other relatives and friends of those boys who were the colony's pride.

The services were simple. Orations were delivered by the Rev. John Herget, chaplain in the colonel's regiment in France; by Assistant Secretary of the Navy, Theodore Roosevelt, who represented the federal government; by Marcel Knecht, director of the French information service in the United States, who represented the French government; and by other officers.

The body, followed by one of the largest funeral corteges ever seen here, was taken to Spring Grove cemetery, where it was consigned to a vault, preparatory to burial with military honors in Arlington National Cemetery, Washington.

Among the many messages of condolence received by Mrs. Galbraith today, was the following from Marshall Poeh of Indianapolis: "I wish to express to the American Legion and to Mrs. Galbraith my sentiments of heartfelt condolence and profound sympathy in the sorrow which has stricken them and in which France and the French army have lost such a noble friend."

Nations See Disarmament Conference

(By Associated Press.)
Washington.—Prospects for an international conference on disarmament were considered bright in administration and diplomatic circles Saturday, following announcement that responses of an informal nature had been received from several governments to which the United States recently addressed preliminary suggestions for such a conference.

Nothing definite in the way of actual diplomatic action, however, was said, but it is understood preliminary steps are well under way.

The announcement did not indicate from what nations responses had been received. The general opinion in the matter seemed to be that considerable time would be required to bring about the proposed conference.

IOWA CONGRESSMAN QUITS HOUSE SEAT

(By Associated Press.)
Washington.—Representative Good of Iowa, chairman of the house appropriations committee, resigned Saturday, immediately after the house had adopted the conference report on the deficiency appropriation bill, and the deficiency measure handled by him. He will practice law in Chicago.

Exclusive of the present session, Mr. Good served 12 years in congress as the representative from the fifth Iowa district.

Democrats joined republicans in a round of speeches commending the retiring member.

SEVEN CHILDREN HUNGRY BECAUSE FATHERS FISHED

Peter Wassell, 931 Water street, and Adolph Bithus, 304 Water street, Beloit, are prone to believe that the strong arm of the law gripped a little too tight and the bandage slipped from the eyes of justice.

Both have been out of work for six months, according to their statements made at the Rock county jail on Saturday.

Wassell is married and has five children. Bithus has two small children to support along with his young wife.

After day they sought work in Beloit with always the same result—"next week—may-be." They devised a possible scheme to beat their hunger by going fishing. They had seen hundreds like the road along the river, fishing for anything that could be attempted by a hook.

They took a minnow seine and went down to Turtle creek near Beloit. They claim they did not know the creek had been stocked with trout and protected by the state law. They only wanted a few minnows and were using with a small mesh seine when caught by two game wardens of the state. The only thing they had in the net was a two or three dozen minnows.

Arraigned in the Beloit municipal court they pleaded guilty and being unable to pay a fine of $50 and costs were sentenced to 75 days in the county jail.

Meanwhile the seven children affected didn't even get the expected fish to eat. Two Beloiters might try fishing out the back windows of the county jail, providing the state will let them dig a few angle worms.

COMMITTEE HIT IN PEACE DEBATE

(By Associated Press.)
Washington.—Opening the light in the house against consideration of the Porter peace resolution, under a special rule preventing amendments, Representative Bourke Cockran, democrat, New York, declared he was ready to vote for peace, but not on the terms proposed by the committee. He declared that by delegating its great powers of legislation to small committees, "it could not get as much space in American newspapers as was given a dance."

"The people," he added, "have ceased to respect you seriously because you have failed to recognize your right to functions."

Two hours were set aside for debate on adoption of a rule giving the peace resolution right of way and providing for continued discussion until 4:30 p. m. Monday, the time fixed for a final vote.

Mr. Cockran declared that, if the rules, preventing amendment on the floor were adopted, nothing could be gained by discussing the resolution. The rule, he added, would put the house in a straight jacket.

Attacking republican members of the foreign affairs committee for framing the peace resolution secretly, Representative Flood, democrat, New York, declared that the committee had failed to consider under "bag rule," he declared it was the first time in history that an important question, bearing on America's foreign relations, had been made a party issue.

Representative Foss, republican, Ohio, member of the rules committee, defended its action in "giving the peace resolution privileged status, declaring it was intended to end an intolerable situation."

Development of Farms Assures Prosperity for Wisconsin, Tour Shows

Farmers from the southwestern section of Rock county learned Friday the reason why Southern Wisconsin is so prosperous and why the state cannot go bankrupt during a period of national financial stress, was the confidence expressed for the future from the highly developed agriculture interests.

The farmers from the Rural Advancement club from Nevada and North districts learned the logic of community development, the value of concentration of a district on pure bred stock and grains and then the value of united advertising and salesmanship.

There were 110 farmers on the 100 mile trip through Jefferson county to see the best that the neighboring county could offer. They learned new ideas of development, of using better equipment to a better profit.

Jefferson county has Rock county but in two things. Holstein cattle and the growing alfalfa. The soils of the neighboring county are not up to the average of Rock, nor are their farms.

GRILL MRS. KABER

Widow and Daughter Arrive in Cleveland; Threats Are Denied.

(By Associated Press.)
Cleveland.—Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber, widow of Daniel F. Kaber, of Lakewood, O., and her daughter, Miss Marion McArdle, pleaded not guilty to the murder of first degree murder of Kaber when arraigned before Judge Bernon Saturday morning. The court set their hearing for June 23 and remanded both to jail without bail.

(By Associated Press.)
Cleveland.—With the arrival from New York of Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber, widow of Daniel F. Kaber, wealthy Lakewood citizen, daughter, Miss Marion McArdle, under indictment for the first degree murder of Kaber, a woman arrested several days ago was identified early Saturday as being connected with the murder plot, according to the police.

Mrs. Kaber was subjected to a severe grilling on her arrival here late Friday night. The two ladies were confronted by the woman, through whom Mrs. Kaber is alleged to have hired the assassins to stab her husband to death two years ago and who furnished the poison which was administered to Kaber in his food.

Both Mrs. Kaber and Miss McArdle identified the woman. This identification brought from the Sandusky woman, police say, the admission that she had supplied "medicine" for Kaber and that it was at her home in Cleveland, shortly before the murder, that she had met a man to whom she promised $3,000 for "doing away with her husband."

No Verdict in Third Milk Case

Two hours of deliberation proved fruitless in efforts of a six man municipal court jury to reach a verdict Friday afternoon, in the case of J. E. L. Sweet, who was charged with having sold milk testing under 2.5 per cent. Judge H. L. Maxwell discharged the jury at 6 p. m. after the foreman had announced failure to agree. The case is now open to new trial.

This is the second case of its kind in which a jury has disagreed. In the third instance a verdict of not guilty was reached.

J. E. Sweet and I. W. Keebler, of the state dairy and food commission, gave expert testimony for the state, while witnesses for the defense were Maurice Dalton, Edmund Leary and Miss Margaret Mulligan. Dist. Atty. S. G. Dubwidge and E. H. Ryan were the attorneys.

(By Associated Press.)
Warren, Ind.—Mrs. Lydia Decker and her two sons, Fred and Calvin, probably will be tried soon on the charge of murdering Leroy Lovett, 20, of Elkhart, county officials announced. Virgil Decker, 13, another son, was convicted late Friday by a jury and his punishment fixed at life imprisonment. Virgil, according to the state's contention committed the murder as part of a plot to obtain $50,000 in insurance. Lovett, it is alleged, was picked as the victim because of his resemblance to Virgil Decker, the plan being to murder Lovett, and then identify his body as that of Decker so the insurance money might be collected.

It's easy to build good walls and ceilings with "Cornell" Panels

I GOT the idea of lining my summer cottage and garage with Cornell-Wood Board from a neighbor's house in town. It was finished throughout with Cornell Panels instead of lath and plaster.

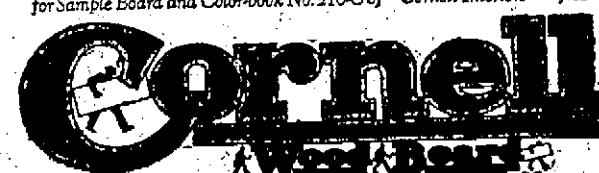

Anyone who discovers the exclusive improvements embodied in Cornell will never be satisfied with ordinary wallboard.

First—Cornell's "Triple-Sized" process which gives triple protection against moisture, expansion and contraction.

Third—Cornell's handsome "Oatmeal" finish which is so much admired by all.

OATS ALONE SHOW LARGER ACREAGE

Total Area for Spring Grains Slightly Increased Over 1920.

Madison.—The area planted to oats this spring totaled 3,388,000 acres, states Joseph A. Becker of the Wisconsin Cooperative Crop Reporting Service (U. S. Bureau of Crop Estimates and Agricultural Statistics). This is 1 per cent greater than in 1920, when 3,360,000 acres were planted, and 4 per cent larger than the 5-year average (1915-19) of 3,250,000 acres. The 1920-21 average of both spring and winter grains total 3,595,000 acres, as compared to 3,734,000 acres in 1920 and a 5-year average of 3,608,000 acres.

Total production of small grains in 1921 is forecasted at 128,883,000 bushels, compared to 136,719,000 produced in 1920 and a 5-year average of 126,314,000 bushels.

Acreage of oats in 1921 is the largest ever planted, or 2,552,000 acres, 6 per cent more than in 1920 when 2,408,000 acres were sown, and 24,000 acres greater than the previous record of 2,384,000 acres in 1919. Five-year average acreage is 2,253,000 acres. Forecast of production is 101,825,000 bushels, compared to 107,900,000 bushels in 1920 and a 5-year average of 93,450,000 bushels. Condition on June 1 was 95 per cent of normal, compared to 93 per cent last year and a 10-year average of 94 per cent.

United States.—Area planted to oats in the United States is estimated at 44,820,000 acres, compared to 45,320,000 in 1920 and a 5-year average of 42,450,000 acres. Condition on June 1 was 87.7 per cent, compared to 87.8 per cent last year and a 10-year average of 89.5 per cent. This gives promise of a production of 1,461,922,000 bushels, compared to 1,540,955,000 produced in 1920 and a 5-year average of 1,432,000,000 bushels.

Barley.—Acreage of barley decreased 3 per cent since a year ago. A majority of northern counties show a substantial gain, but the southern and eastern counties have further decreased the acreage of this crop. Area is 487,000 acres, compared to 502,000 in 1920 and a 5-year average of 530,000 acres. Forecasted production is 13,107,000 bushels, compared to 15,340,000 in 1920 and a 5-year average of 13,167,000 bushels. Condition on June 1 was 94 per cent, compared to 92 per cent last year and a 10-year average of 93 per cent.

United States.—Acreage of barley in the United States is estimated at 7,713,000 acres, compared to 8,085,000 in 1920 and a 5-year average of 8,302,000 acres. Condition is 87.1 per cent, compared to 87.5 per cent last year and a 10-year average of 89.4 per cent. Forecast of production is 190,661,000 bushels, compared to 202,024,000 bushels in 1920 and a 5-year average of 208,000,000 bushels.

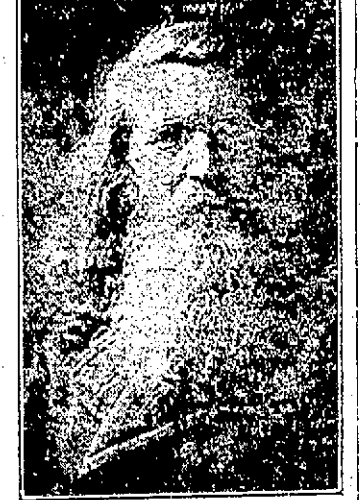

Spring Wheat.—Acreage of spring wheat was again nearly cut in half. Area in 1921 is estimated at 1,500,000 acres, compared to 2,500,000 in 1920 and a 5-year average of 2,400,000 acres. This indicates that acreage of this crop will soon be reduced to practically the pre-war average of slightly over 1,000,000 acres. Production is forecasted at 2,691,000 bushels, compared to 3,159,000 in 1920 and a 5-year average of 3,000,000 bushels. Condition on June 1 was 92 per cent compared to 89 per cent last year and a 10-year average of 92 per cent.

United States.—Area planted to spring wheat is estimated at 18,023,000 acres, compared to 19,410,000 last year and a 5-year average of 19,971,000 acres. Production forecast is 231,338,000 bushels, compared to 260,000,000 bushels in 1920 and a 5-year average of 258,000,000 bushels. Condition on June 1 was 93.4 per cent, compared to 89.1 per cent last year and a 10-year average of 93.9 per cent.

Winter Wheat.—Production of winter wheat is now forecasted at 1,022,000 bushels, compared to 1,009,000 on May 1, 2,002,000 produced in 1920 and a 5-year average of 1,764,000 bushels. Condition on June 1 was 86 per cent, compared to 89 per cent a year ago and a 10-year average of 86 per cent.

United States.—The United States winter wheat crop is forecasted at 578,150,000 bushels, compared to 629,287,000 on May 1, 577,763,000 bushels produced in 1920 and a 5-year average of 578,000,000 bushels. Condition on June 1 was 77.9 per cent, compared to 78.9 per cent last year and a 10-year average of 78.9 per cent.

HE WROTE THE MUSIC TO "SWEET BY AND BY"

JOSEPH E. WEBSTER

Joseph Webster was held in high esteem in Walworth county when he was a teacher of music—real music of the kind that is heard after the war. His songs and his violin were known everywhere. He came from Boston where he had studied with Lowell Mason. Any one who is familiar with church music and songs of the ballad form will know of Lowell Mason. It was in the store of his friend, Samuel Trillmore Bennett, in Elkhorn, that Webster composed the music of the song, "In the Sweet By and By." Bennett wrote one night after he was through with the day's trade in the store when Webster and a few friends sat about. As the verses came from the pen of Bennett, Webster wrote down the notes.

The story of the song has been told many times. It is again interesting because the publishers have just paid to the sons of Joseph Webster $50,000 as royalties on the song, a long contested and hard fought case that was not ended in the lifetime of the composer.

The photograph is from the collection of R. H. Barlow, of Janesville, who has had it for many years.

BIBLE SCHOOL FOR VACATION DAYS IS HELD IN MILTON

Milton.—A vacation Bible school is in progress at Milton under the auspices of the Sabbath school of the S. D. B. church. The school was opened June 6 with 25 pupils and now has 37 enrolled. There are four teachers. The principal, Miss Mary Lou Ogden, is from Salem, W. Va. The school is divided into four classes. Class one is composed of children from the first and second grades, class two is from the third and fourth grades, class three is from the fifth and sixth grades, and class four is from the seventh and eighth grades.

The first class is taught by Miss Ruth Inglis, who is spending the summer in Milton, after an absence of two years spent with her sister in Dalton, Wis. The second class is taught by Miss Ogden, the third by Miss Elsie Thomas, and the fourth by Dr. Rosa Palmberg.

The school opens at 8:30 a. m. with 10 minutes for opening exercises. There are four study periods lasting 20 to 40 minutes each, with a recess of 20 minutes spent in playing games, which are supervised by the teachers, followed by an assembly period of 10 minutes at which the exercises differ slightly from day to day, but which consist mostly of singing. The four study periods are respectively for Bible study, mission study, memory work, and story telling.

MEXICO IS JUST A WAITING GAME

Question of Time When Settlement of Affairs Will be Made.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.

Copyright 1921, by Janesville Gazette.

Washington.—The Mexican situation has simply resolved itself into a question of time. The United States government confidently expects the Mexican authorities to come round to the viewpoint expressed in the proposal for a new treaty of amity and commerce. The Mexicans have begun arguing but eventually they must accept the proposal made or remain outside the family of nations.

The Mexican officials whose statements have been published do not yet know how firm is the attitude of Secretary Hughes. They imagine it is a subject in which there can be no compromise. But Mr. Hughes insists on one fundamental. Failing to grasp that fundamental, the Mexicans may cost Gen. Oregon a good deal. The fundamental is simply that the Mexican constitution is or is not constitutional. If it isn't then a treaty should be negotiated to prove the point. If it is, the Mexicans are asking to interpret or change their constitution so as to remove all doubt about confiscation of foreign property lawfully acquired, then recognition must be given to the fact that a government arises which does feel capable of making the desired treaty.

Proves America's Position. What Mexico has just done in refusing to negotiate a treaty on the ground that no pact or international convention can conflict with the Mexican constitution is regarded here as absolutely proving the American contention. The mere fact that Mexico says a treaty would be in contradiction of certain articles in the constitution is an admission that the Mexicans construe the famous article 27 complained of by the United States as confiscatory. If the Mexicans have decided to admit that the Mexican constitution was as drastic as that in actual operation but Secretary Hughes has many answers to that. He is in the position of proving his point. In a nutshell, the situation has progressed a point. The Mexicans now admit that their constitution confiscates foreign property.

Up to Mexican Court. They have a way out, however. They need not change their constitution. They can have their supreme court interpret the article in dispute as not retroactive. Even then the United States would insist on a treaty so as to prevent any return to earlier interpretations.

Officials here aren't disturbed over the situation. They believe the Mexicans will eventually see the point and give the requisite assurances, talk of intervention proceeds as usual from those with whom the wish is father to the thought. But it can be stated positively that coercive measures of a military character are not even considered here as an alternative to Mexican refusal.

The real alternative is refusal to deal with the Obregon regime and patient waiting for a new administration. President Wilson waited till Huerta got out. The Mexicans didn't believe it would be possible for American to withhold recognition. Now it appears inevitable that unless the Obregon administration makes a treaty there will be another period of watchful waiting.

Always in Danger. Of course the danger of dissolution inside Mexico is always present when an unrecognized regime tries to finance itself or consolidate its domestic elements. And in such a period of tension outward acts are likely to occur which may force the American government's hands. In that sense the interventionists may be pleased over the turn which things have taken for it looks as if the negotiation will be prolonged. The uncertain factor is General Obregon. If he proves as stubborn as Carranza, the situation may be

BOARD OF REVIEW MEETS JUNE 27TH

Several Adjournments Expected Before Final Hearing of Taxpayers.

A call has been issued by Mayor T. E. Welsh for the annual meeting of the city board of review, June 27, in accordance with the statutes. The meeting that day will be purely a legal formality, as there will be no business to be taken up. Adjournment of one month, to July 27, will be taken immediately after the meeting is called.

It is probable even another adjournment may be taken in July as it will be some time before City Assessor Frank L. Smith completes the big job of fixing the valuation of every piece of real and personal property in the city including more than 1,000 automobiles.

Is Old Law. The law which requires the board of review to meet the last Monday in June is an old one having been created at the time each ward in a city had its own assessor. They were able to cover this small territory in comparatively short time, but now with the assessing of the entire city in the hands of one man, much more time is required. Last year the board had to adjourn six or seven times before the assessment rolls were finally completed so that taxpayers could enter protests. This practice is carried out in Madison and other cities.

When the assessment rolls are completed enough publicity will be given so that any property owners who wish to register objections may get a hearing at the final meeting. The date of adjournment of each meeting is posted according to law on the door of the meeting place, which will be Mr. Smith's office in the city hall.

From now until late in the fall, all the cottages will be filled and especially on week-ends with house parties. The river banks will be the scene of much social activity and good times, with picnics, hikes and water contests taking place.

BOARD OF REVIEW MEETS JUNE 27TH

Several Adjournments Expected Before Final Hearing of Taxpayers.

A call has been issued by Mayor T. E. Welsh for the annual meeting of the city board of review, June 27, in accordance with the statutes. The meeting that day will be purely a legal formality, as there will be no business to be taken up. Adjournment of one month, to July 27, will be taken immediately after the meeting is called.

It is probable even another adjournment may be taken in July as it will be some time before City Assessor Frank L. Smith completes the big job of fixing the valuation of every piece of real and personal property in the city including more than 1,000 automobiles.

Is Old Law. The law which requires the board of review to meet the last Monday in June is an old one having been created at the time each ward in a city had its own assessor. They were able to cover this small territory in comparatively short time, but now with the assessing of the entire city in the hands of one man, much more time is required. Last year the board had to adjourn six or seven times before the assessment rolls were finally completed so that taxpayers could enter protests. This practice is carried out in Madison and other cities.

When the assessment rolls are completed enough publicity will be given so that any property owners who wish to register objections may get a hearing at the final meeting. The date of adjournment of each meeting is posted according to law on the door of the meeting place, which will be Mr. Smith's office in the city hall.

Although owners of cottages along the river north of the city were late this year in getting started, all have opened up their places by now and launches, canoes, and rowboats are seen in the vicinity of the Four-Mile bridge constantly. Many are enjoying swimming.

From now until late in the fall, all the cottages will be filled and especially on week-ends with house parties. The river banks will be the scene of much social activity and good times, with picnics, hikes and water contests taking place.

MAY CALL IN JUDGE FOR STRAITS CASE

Celebrated Canadian Lumber Suit to be Tried in Court Here.

The celebrated million dollar lumber case of J. P. Cullen, Janesville, against the Straits Lumber company and others, has been set in the Rock county circuit court again. This litigation is based on claims that the defendants are attempting a "fraudulent scheme" to gain control of the corporation. A number of Rock county people having investments in the company are concerned in the litigation.

The defendants named in the complaint are James S. Puffer, George E. King, Dr. Frank B. Farnsworth, H. S. Gilkey, H. N. Hosick, F. R. Pendleton, A. W. Howard and R. M. Simmons. Cullen, as plaintiff, is the defendant in the case of a number of stockholders in the Straits company, which has number rights in Canada.

At a previous date an application was filed for a change of venue from the Rock county court presided over by Judge George Grimm. There is a legal question of whether the application was filed in time. The proceedings Friday were to withdraw the petition for a change of venue. It is understood that an outside judge will be called in to hear the litigation.

Judge Grimm settled up a number of long standing disputes over alimony and divorce judgment. In the case of Ethel Ward and Patrick J. Ward, who brought suit they were living in different parts of a farm home. In the divorce award the wife was granted the use of the farm. She tried to run the farm for a number of months behind because of ill health. The husband went out and took charge of the farm but kept away from the wife, living in a separate part of the house. There was a vision of previous divorce judgment so that the wife receives alimony.

The long court suit of Elizabeth C. Bull against her husband, W. J. Bull, has been apparently settled. An amount was agreed upon which the husband is to pay the wife in place of alimony and a division of property.

Judgment against Merton R. Fish on a promissory note amounting to $2,514.50 was obtained by Gustave Olson after a hearing before Judge Grimm.

DEVELOPMENT OF FARMS IN STATE

obtain better herds to have superior farms. Prosperity on the farms is clearly reflected on the villages and cities. Bankers in Jefferson county indicate that their district has not been materially affected by the industrial slump. Agriculture increases have held the county up.

Two of the finest Holstein herds in the state were seen at the Jefferson county fair and at the Milford Meadows farm. The Jefferson county herd numbers 150 pure bred, many of them with records. W. E. Voigt, the superintendent, started with a few prize milk cows and a high bred herd bull and developed until it is doubtless if $250,000 would buy the main herd.

A $25,000 Cow. On the famous Milford farms, the Rock county residents saw "Boss Burke Oresby" the 12 pound butter fat cow valued at $25,000. She has produced over 2,000 pounds of milk in 7 days and 114 pounds of butter in a year. Here there was a herd of 200 pure bred cows.

The convincing part of the trip was not on the big stock farms where wealth had been used for development, but rather on the 80 acre farms where the farmer had sold his grades and "scrubs" and started in with limited means and much energy. On the farm of H. H. Bridge, near Lake Mills, the Rock county residents saw a small herd of as fine animals as can be found.

The gross return from this herd last year was $17,000, through the sale of stock and sweet cream. When a small farmer obtained his start in pure bred, his ambition was increased to develop. He took care of his stock, adopted modern means and made his farms.

Fine farm equipment was seen on the farms of W. D. James and W. D. Hoard, Port Atkinson, where the farms were pure bred. On the farm of Frank Frod, who won the recent prize for white eggs, the Rock county residents saw a flock of Peris strain White Leghorns.

The other farms visited and inspected were William Start, Fred Gurr, Oscar Selvester, Henry Antons, Charles Becker and Walter Becker. In all the Rock county men saw cattle which must be worth $1,500,000. They came away convinced that Jefferson and Rock counties are not going "back."

Fourth in Alfalfa. Jefferson county grows more alfalfa than Rock. It appears to be the county's best crop. Farmers there were all in high praise of its use. The county is fortunate in having soils underlined with limestone. However Rock county could excel Jefferson in alfalfa growing through treatment of soils with lime and phosphorus. Many acres in Jefferson are planted with peas, which have been a profitable crop there.

Rock county farmers came home from the tour with two ideas of improving livestock in their townships and growing of more alfalfa. The trip was arranged by J. M. Govers, county agent of Jefferson county. The herds were shown by Agent Govers and A. F. Garke and H. A. Main, secretaries of the Holstein and Guernsey associations. Ernest Nass, president of the Jefferson Farm Bureau was also on the trip.

Defend Dairy Interests. At the Jefferson county fair where lunch was served at the hour, W. J. Glover, editor of the Hoard Dairyman spoke on the need for dairy development.

He left Friday for Washington to appear before a Congressional committee to urge the enactment of federal laws to stamp out the manufacture and sale of filled milk. It is proposed to have laws passed whereby skim milk and condensed milk will be taxed to death and prohibited in interstate shipping. This would back up the state law recently passed by the legislature but not yet signed by the governor.

"The dairy interests of this state depend on killing filled milk and milk substitutes," said Mr. Glover. "We attack milk substitutes on the grounds of being an injury to health and to the interests of the farmers. You farmers must stick together for development. The milk is greater or richer than its soils. We want the farmer so independent that there will be full justice for agriculture."

Plan Celebration. The tour was a decided success for the Rural Advancement club. Roy Cole is president of the organization with Mrs. Dean Van Camp

THE GIRL WHO HAD NO CHANCE

By Marion Rubincam

CHAPTER XVI.
SUNLIGHT AND SHADOWS
In that way a real transformation began in Ruth's life, a transformation that affected everything except the old heart-hungry feeling that came when she thought of Tim.
The day of the phone message. Ruth looked up the office early and walked over to the factory. She was glad for once that the real estate man paid so little attention to his affairs, so that she might give herself this half hour without any pangs of conscience about it.
She went, as directed, to Langley Williams' temporary office. And presently the factory owner himself arrived and for an hour the three talked about an indoor playground for the children, to take the place of the open-air one in winter, a room to be used after factory hours as a gymnasium and meeting place for the factory workers.
Ruth felt herself too ignorant to give ideas about this sort of thing, but while they waited for the owner, Langley Williams told her briefly that she knew a lot and to use her imagination when her facts ran out, and to plan the thing as she would want it.
So the girl gave all the ideas she has read up in books and articles on social work, and then began planning the place as she herself would want it to be.
Every one here ought to have half an hour of exercise in the middle of the day," she said, trying not to be as timid as she felt. "You see, I worked hard and I know how my back ached bending over all the time, and those girls are bent forever over their tables."
So the talk went on, and in the end the factory owner decided to close out a large warehouse and install gymnasium apparatus for both the children and the men and women in the factory.
Ruth went home and thought about it, and when she next met the man in Williams' office she had new confidence and many ideas.
"I can't give them drills and such things, for I'm not a teacher," she said, when that position was offered her. "But you can get a competent person from the High School. I know that their gym instructors can come here for the half hour drill for the workers during the day, and in the evenings for those who want to join regular classes. Basketball courts can be put in, too, without much cost."
And she went. And in a few weeks Ruth saw her vague idea blossoming into a reality—the children delighted in the new warm places to play, there was a woman to oversee them and to teach them games and give them simple exercises. The "gym" teacher, as Ruth predicted, made an arrangement with the school to conduct daytime drills and evening classes. Bent shoulders were straightened, aching spines strengthened and hollow chests developed.
Meantime the winner was well on its way. And meantime, Ruth and Langley Williams had taken several long trips on Sundays, and Ruth had delighted in his broad outlook upon life.
"Of course, the factory people will pay you for your work on the gym," he said one day.
"But I don't want pay," Ruth was almost scandalized. "I think it is a privilege to be able to do it, and an honor to be asked."
"My dear girl," Langley said with a slightly ironical inflection, "you are to get along in this world is to do good work and receive good money. You've done a great thing for the workers in that factory. I'm here to put the thing on an official basis. The first thing I did was to improve their lighting and their ventilation, so the physical conditions while working were ideal. The true condition is to be paid for it."
JUDA
Juda—Juda will not celebrate the 4th of July this year, being due to the celebration at Bluff View park, five miles east of here. The Broadhead band has been engaged to play all day, also Mr. Nelson of Beloit, who will be off hand with his acrobatic carry passengers and will do rope ladder stunts 3,000 feet in the air. Plans are rapidly coming to completion for one of the best times ever held in Southern Wisconsin.

RECIPES FOR A DAY
Barley Gums—Beat two eggs lightly and add two cupsful of milk. Sift together one cup each of barley and rice flour and add two ounces of sugar, half a teaspoon of baking powder. Rub in with the fingers the four tablespoons of butter substitute and add the eggs and milk. Beat well and bake in oiled gem pans.
Ragout of Rice and Bacon—Fry until browned six large slices of bacon and chop coarsely. Prepare a cup of highly seasoned brown sauce, add a cup and a quarter of dry cooked rice and the bacon. Mix well and stir in two tablespoons of chili sauce and one tablespoon of chopped parsley. This may be served plain or it may be turned into a croquette by dipping the top covered with dried crushed crumbs mixed with grated cheese and browned over in a quick oven.
DELICIOUS PIE RECIPES.
Lemon Cream Pie—Three-quarters cup of white sugar and one large spoonful butter beaten into a cream. Stir in three beaten yolks of eggs, half a cup of lemon juice and peel (one lemon). A little almond extract beaten with the whites, or a little rose water and three tablespoons of sugar, for a meringue to cover the pie when done. This for one good-sized pie.
Lemon-Apple Pie—Take one apple chopped fine, one egg, one lemon, chop inside fine, grate the rind and one cup of sugar, piece of butter size of a walnut. Makes one pie.
TRY THESE.
To Keep Buttons From Being Ironed Off—Place a pin in button and sew through it. When finished remove the pin, thus leaving the thread loose enough for buttons to "play" when pushed by the iron in ironing or tearing off in the wash. It is well to put a tape back of them on very thin material.
Dress Shields—Instead of sewing dress shields in waist put on with very small hooks and eyes, having the hooks on the shields, the eyes on the waist. Be sure to get the washable kind. You will find this very convenient indeed.
Stockings—To keep black stockings from turning brown use plenty of bluing water.
KITCHEN HINTS
When making mashed potatoes into cakes, rub the hands with flour to prevent potato sticking to them.
When scouring pans use an inexpensive hand brush which distributes the cleaner in a fine bead and seems to lighten this task considerably, to say nothing of saving the dishcloths.
In making salads calling for celery when it is impossible to get celery, use cabbage stalk, cut it up fine and sprinkle with celery seed and let stand a while, then just before using, mash it up.

NEW WAY TO WEAR THE BRIDAL VEIL

By ELOISE.
Veils may not be popular in these summer months, but there is one veil which is more than popular in June, the bridal veil. It may be of tulle, rare old lace or chiffon. Tulle is the favorite material, but those girls who have rare old lace are indeed fortunate, for it makes a charming wedding veil and often there is a bit of sentiment attached to the old lace.
Here is a unique veil arrangement which will be welcomed by the girl who does not care for the cap arrangement. The voluminous folds of tulle are fastened under a bandeau of pearls. This bandeau, which is made like a crown, is placed over the forehead and hooked in the back like a wreath. Thus the veil is allowed to fall gracefully over the back and shoulders, leaving the face and hair uncovered.
The gown here is a plain chemise model made of georgette embroidered in sequins. It is made with the long blouse and no sleeves.

Heart and Home Problems

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON.
Letters May be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette.
"Blue Rose": Say nothing about marriage to the young man. You are quite right in your attitude. Doubtless he has marriage in mind, but is not financially able to marry at present.
Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl 15 years old and live in the city. I have many boy friends. One is 17 years old. He comes to see me nearly every night. I know he loves me, but I have not any love for him. I just take him as a good friend.
Whenever I look at or talk to another boy he gets angry and will not speak for a few days.
What is your opinion of this boy? Do you think I ought to go with him?
A. M. C. M.
Do not be alarmed over the boy's love for you. He is so young that you can count on it that he will outgrow his infatuation. Insist upon friendship and do not permit him to talk of love. Go with him if you like him, but be sincere in your attitude toward him.
Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl 15 years of age and weigh 115 pounds and am getting larger all the time. Please print something to reduce my flesh.
You really ought to consult a physician. To reduce flesh to any great extent is a serious matter and should not be attempted without a doctor's supervision. Perhaps some physical disorder is causing you to become stout and a physician could correct it.

What Shall I Do?

Answered by VIRGINIA PAGE
Unless the Shoe Pinches
"Dear Miss Page: I am a constant reader of the "What Shall I Do?" column and get lots of good sound advice. I am very much in love with a certain young lady and she loves me; we are engaged and are to be married in a few months. But there is someone who does not agree to our marriage. I don't know why they should disagree. I have everything it takes to make a young couple happy—a nice home for her and a growing auto business. Will you kindly give me your honest opinion?—Out of Luck."
I am afraid my honest opinion wouldn't be worth much because, you see, you didn't tell me what sex and relation the "disagree" is. So I can't make even a good guess. But I am sure that if both you and the young lady are absolutely honest with yourselves and with one another, and you still feel that your marriage is right, it probably is and I'd let the "someone" disagree in peace. Perhaps he or she is jealous. Best wishes for your happiness—and I hope you will continue to enjoy our column.
The Question of Coiffures
"Dear Miss Page: I am 14 years old and a sophomore in high school. All the girls wear their hair done up, but I wear mine in curls and tied back. They say I am too old to wear it down and ridicule me. Do you think I should do it up? At what age do you think it is proper or necessary to wear your hair done up? I prefer wearing it down and I would like you to tell me if I am right so I could tell the girls your opinion.—Brown Eyes."
You are right, Brown Eyes, and your little friends don't know how foolish they are to try so hard to grow up before their time. They will be grown up so long, and many's the time they will wish after a while that they could wear their hair down again. There is nothing sweeter in all the world than a girlish young girl, and nothing more pathetic and pitiable than the misguided young girl who strives to disguise her youth.
Unless you are extremely large, there is no reason why you should do your hair up before you are 17 or 18. There are no such things as curls if you are 15 or 16. Wear it in curls if you are lucky enough to have curls. If it is straight and thin and not in good condition, have it bobbed. This will strengthen the hair, give you a lot of much better, and will probably be becoming until you are 17 or 18. But be careful! If you have your hair bobbed, don't let the barber use the clippers on it—that will ruin your hairline forever.

DANCE HALL PUT UNDER LICENSED CONTROL OF CITY

St. Louis—An ordinance placing all public dance halls under licensed control of the city has become effective here. The halls will be regulated by the Department of Welfare. Violations of the ordinance will be punishable by a fine of from $25 to $100. Passage of the act resulted from investigation of the "crime wave" in St. Louis several months ago by the board of aldermen. Police officers said much crime was traced to dance halls.
The ordinance stipulates that a license fee, ranging from $30 to $150 a year, according to the size of the hall, shall be paid to the city. Licenses will be issued after an examination by the director of welfare as to the character of places. Halls must be closed after 1 a. m., except when operated on permits issued for special occasions.
Persons under 17 years old are barred from halls after 8 p. m. unless accompanied by parents or guardians or by an adult with a permit from the parents or guardians. Proprietors of halls who permit disorderly persons to be in the hall or who permit vulgar language will lose their licenses and be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Blues Meet Evansville - Schools Track Meet Starts

LOCALS WILL TRY TO MAKE UP FOR RECENT DEFEATS

Will the dope prove true? Predictions are that Janesville high school will take the scalp of Evansville when the team from the out-of-city meets with the Blues for a season at the fair grounds Saturday afternoon. The game starts at 2 o'clock.

While the locals lost to Evansville some time ago, they have shown marvelous improvement in every department and unless the breaks are against them they are due to win. This does not mean to say that Evansville has been standing still in the meantime. It indicates a hot battle.

Next Tuesday Janesville plays its third game against Milton Union. The nearby school will come here for the contest which will be played at 2 o'clock at the fair grounds. Milton has two wins over the Blues.

Carp Fears Overtraining Jack Returns to Boxing

New York—Fear of overtraining appears to haunt Georges Carpentier and his manager. In his eagerness to be in complete trim when he faces Jack Dempsey on July 2 the French pugilist has apparently reached top condition well in advance of the date of combat. That this situation is realized by his advisers may be inferred from the frequent changes in the announced training program and the statement that for the next week or so Carpentier would work when and how the impulse moved him to do so. Several close observers of pugilistic conditioning methods have intimated recently that Carpentier was training at too fast a pace for a bout to be held in the early part of July and if a line can be gained from his last public workout the warnings are not without basis.

At the finish of his last exhibition those who followed Carpentier from the ring noted his jaw sagging loosely and he wore a tired, haggard expression in marked contrast to the jaunty air he showed at the beginning of the afternoon's workout.

CHAMPION'S EYE NOW IS ALRIGHT

Atlantic City, N. J.—After a 24 hour lay off Jack Dempsey swung back into his training grid Saturday. The champion was away from camp Friday morning to Camden, N. J., to bring back his Belgian police dog.

A physician who stitched the champion's damaged eye, told him that the wound had sufficiently healed to permit the resumption of boxing without the danger of further injury. Dempsey's sparring partners, however, have been compelled to wear headbands to lessen the possibility of reopening the cut.

Dempsey was interested in the stories of the impressive showing made by Max Baer, who knocked out a heavyweight from Memphis, the latest addition to the staff of sparring partners. Baer was given a private try out Friday with Jack Remick, the big Canadian heavyweight, and the result was a distinct surprise. Remick, himself a good hitter, tried vainly to knock Baer over but the elusive Baer kept too much about boxing and proved too skillful in the art of dodging.

Boxing experts agree that Baer probably will prove the most satisfactory sparring partner in the camp.

Sheely Hits Two Homers for Sox

AMERICAN LEAGUE
After spouting a snarl about the kind of pitching now being handed out, Bambino Ruth connected with his 17th Friday. As usual the Yankees lost, Cleveland coping 8 to 6 in the 11th. Smith, Gardner and Mays also got circuit clouts.

A returning Earl Sheely leaped on the horseshoe for two homers Friday and the White Sox whitewashed Philadelphia, 5 to 0. Sheely's runs made four of the five hits.

Taking the final game of the series, Detroit got an even break with Washington. The score was 6 to 2. After hitting the ball into the left field bleachers, Collins was left on base. Veach took his place and of turn, Veach took his place and made a homer.

Ellerbe, Lamb and Sisler made a triple play in the sixth when by Boston from St. Louis, 4 to 2.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
Battling Toney freely, Cincinnati won from New York, 2 to 1. Bressler brought in all of the Red Legs runs with a triple and a single. Brooklyn is skidding. St. Louis took the series by snatching the last game, 8 to 2.

With Scott keeping Pittsburgh's hits scattered and connected with two timely tallies, the Braves won, 4 to 1.

BASS SEASON OPENS TUESDAY

Bass fishing in this part of the state opens June 15. A statement to this effect has been issued by Marc Catlin, member of the Wisconsin legislature from Appleton and authority on fish and game laws. Catlin has made a special study of game laws and has been the father of many bills concerning them.

But the big noise is: Bass fishing opens next Tuesday.

Tractors Engage Electric Team at Springfield

When the Janesville Tractors come in contact with the Sangamon Electric of the Central Industrial League at Springfield, Ill., Saturday and Sunday, there is going to be a short circuit and the Sangamons are going to blow up. The record of the Tractors gives them that much of an advantage over the electric.

There is another thing and that is the spirit with which the local boys started off on their two weeks' jaunt Friday, Brackett, Wootton and Schwand were still waiting for the motor cars to be brought around and all chimed in:

"We are going to take every game on this trip. We're going to put everything we got in the games. What we want to do is to make this Chicago crowd sit up and take notice."

Monday and Tuesday the Perring crew will be at Centerville against the White Sox of that place and Thursday, Saturday and Sunday following they will appear against the Staley Starchmakers at Decatur.

289 LADS COMPETE IN SECOND ANNUAL OUTDOOR TOURNEY

Two hundred and eighty-nine young athletes of the Janesville grade schools gathered at the fair grounds at 8:30 Saturday morning to take part in the second annual grade schools track and field meet. Enthusiastic to the nth degree, the lads, small and tall and weighing from 60 pounds to 125, were gathered in four groups at the grand stand arranged according to classes.

Teachers from the nine schools participating were aiding in keeping the youngsters in their places. Each class had its own number corresponding with one upon the program of competitors.

Dot at Field.
The meet started shortly after 9 o'clock. Several events were going at the same time creating great cheers from the roosters in the stands. Superintendent of Schools, Frank O. Holt, was on deck aiding in officiating. The tournament was in charge of A. E. Borgman, athletic director of the local Y. M. C. A. Among his aids were Frank Simons, sports editor of the Gazette; A. C. Preston, boys work secretary at the Y; Rev. R. C. Pierson; Rev. J. A. Melrose and Elbridge Fillet.

Twenty-four events were on the program. Washington school, winner of the pennant a year ago, were making a great showing but had the keenest kind of competition.

The events:

Following are the weights for the four classes: Class 1, 60 to 80 pounds; class 2, 81 to 95; class 3, 96 to 110; and class 4, 111 to 125. Here are the events for each class: Class 1—50 yd. dash; 75 yd. dash; standing broad jump; running high jump; running broad jump; and baseball throw.

Belmont Park—Goalie, a ten to one shot, established a world's record in winning the Bayside handicap, running the mile and a furlong in 1:42 flat, a fifth of a second under the time made by Man O'War.

"TRACTORS" RIDE ON HOME-RUN TUBES

Prior to hiking off on their journey through Illinois, the players of the Janesville Tractors made a raid upon the shop of George Yahn, Jr., Friday morning. Four autos pulled up in front of the place and a great yell went out:

"We want our tubes!"
Seven inner tubes were distributed to the boys in payment of home runs knocked out in the fair grounds lot in accordance with an agreement that Yahn made early in the season.

DODGE BROTHERS SEDAN

Special Announcement
It is reported that many of our foremost families are leaving for places where Pearl Wire Cloth is unknown.
Mr. H. Fly and Miss Skito are said to have remarked, "Humans may like screens; but it means death by starvation to all respectable disease carrying insects."

SHUT out mosquitoes and flies. Avoid the terrible risk of typhoid and malaria infections. Screen your windows and porches NOW. Specify "PEARL" because it is sanitary—handsome—near rust proof as screen material can be. This is due to its metallic coating, a special process which insures long life.

Look for the copper wires in the selvage that you may be sure you are getting genuine PEARL.
